Wife of Derby Winner's Owner Has Relatives Here

THE KENTUCKY DERBY came real close to home this year. The two owners of Needles, the Derby winner, are known by a number of people here. In fact both owners lived at Carmi for a number of years before winding up living at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Bonnie Heath, one of the owners, is a Carmi man and the other owner, Jack Dudley, resided at Stillwater, Okla., before getting in the oil business with Heath at Carmi, where they set up an office and remained until a half dozen years ago.

Dudley married a Carmi girl and both have been to Harrisburg a lot in the past. Mrs. Dudley is a niece of Mrs. Stella McNulty, Mrs. Joe Gidumb and Clifford Curtis of this city.

Among the friends here of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley are Mr. and Mrs. Eli Lasersohn. They all got acquainted here in Harrisburg. In recent years the Lasersohns have gone out with the Dudleys on vacation trips to Florida.

So Needles apparently had a lot of backers right here.

WILDLIFE IN HARRISBURG: One day last week Vern Joyner Jr. looked out his back door and saw a red squirrel running around. It appeared quite tame and Joyner got something to feed it.

When he went outside, however, the squirrel scampered off.

Later his mother saw it go by, chasing a dog. However, the tables must have turned because later Vern saw the squirrel up a tree, a dog down on the ground looking up at it.

Yesterday, Ross Lane told me, his bird dog had treed a red squirrel in his neighborhood, and it apparently is a tame one that is scampering about in the south part of town.

NEXT TO LIGHTNING, scientists have discovered that the fastest moving thing is a nudist who has just spilled hot coffee in his lap.

Lt. Fuller Family Trailer, Possessions Burn at Air Base

Mrs. T. H. McCullough of 107 W. College street received a call from her son, Lt. Donald E. Fuller, last night who said his house trailer had burned up yesterday but that his wife and two children were safe.

The fire broke out in a clothes closet during the hour he was home for lunch, the only time during the day he is with his family. The fire, which apparently was due to defective wiring, demolished the new trailer and all their possessions.

The base has provided them with a three-room apartment and Mrs. McCullough is preparing a box of clothing and other articles to send.

If any friends or interested persons wish to contact Donald his address is 3337 Technical Training Sq., Box 301, Scott Air Force Base, Ill., or they may contact his mother. Their small son wears size 1 clothing and the daughter wears a size 6.

Elect Bryan Jones President of Hi-Y Club at HTHS

The Harrisburg Township high school Hi-Y club held its annual election of new officers yesterday. The officers are: Bryan Jones, president; Robert Jones, vice president; Wayne Stone, treasurer; Joe Gaul, secretary; Harold Hicks, chaplain; Gary Karnes, organist; and Roger Wiley, librarian.

These new officers were briefed on their duties and requirements by the outgoing officers and the sponsor, H. B. Bauman.

This club is the oldest Hi-Y club in southern Illinois and the oldest club at H. T. H. S. The Hi-Y is one of the most active clubs at the high school and has an enrollment of 53 active members.

The club is quite active in the community, having donated $50 toward the landscaping of the H. T. H. S. grounds, and having contributed to the Salvation Army and the Carmi Baptist Children's Home.

Projects this year included sending Robert Jones and Bill Bottomley to attend the Youth and Government program at Springfield, participating in an area meeting at Eldorado, attending a joint initiation program at Eldorado, and sending Robert Jones and Bill Bottomley to Campaign to take part in the pre-legislative program.

Among their numerous projects is the promotion of brotherhood which is the most important. These projects help the younger people to live and grow up in a better world which they will conduct.

Seeks Damages From Railroad as Result of Crash

Phillip T. Cain of Eldorado, by his attorneys, Glen O. Jones and Charles H. Thompson, has filed a $30,000 damage suit against the New York Central Railroad in Saline county Circuit Court.

The suit is the result of an automobile-train collision at the Beulah Heights crossing about a mile and a half south of Eldorado the morning of Jan. 26.

It is alleged that the railroad train was being operated at a reckless and dangerously high speed and that whistles or bells were not sounded at the required distance as the train approached the crossing. It is also alleged that the crossing was obscured by fog.

Cain states he stopped at the crossing and looked and listened, but did not see or hear the train approaching and as he started to make the crossing his automobile was hit by the train.

He suffered bruises, cuts, lacerations, was wounded and injured as a result of the collision and has not been able to continue his profession, the teaching of school.

Saline County Soil Conservation District Shows Steady Growth

Five hundred thirty Saline county farmers are planning their farms as cooperators with the Soil Conservation District at the present time. Organized in 1947 by a referendum of the land owners of the county the District has had a steady growth in the past eight years.

The Saline County Soil Conservation District is organized under the laws of the State of Illinois. Its purpose is to make available to farmers technical assistance in preparing conservation farming plans for the farms they operate. Surveying and designing assistance for needed soil erosion control and drainage work is also provided to district cooperators. This technical assistance is supplied the district by the division of the U. S. D. A.

The district is managed by a board of eight directors and associate directors. The present

Eyes on Indiana Voting; Other Primaries Also

Tydings Nominated For Senator in Maryland Balloting

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five states hold primaries today with national interest centering on Indiana, where President Eisenhower and Sen. Estes Kefauver were principals in a presidential preference vote.

Primaries also were being held in Ohio, West Virginia, Florida and New Mexico.

Mr. Eisenhower picked up 24 GOP national convention votes and Kefauver 18 Democratic convention votes as a result of Monday's Maryland primary. They stood to gain respectively 32 and 26 convention votes from today's Indiana balloting.

Mr. Eisenhower faced only nominal opposition in Indiana's GOP primary while Kefauver was unopposed on the Democratic side. Hence, they were pitted in something of a popularity contest, although not a true one since voters could not cross party lines.

Political observers watched normally-Republican Indiana for a comparison of the total GOP-Democratic votes cast. Indiana had no presidential preference voting in 1952, but President Eisenhower carried the state in the 1952 presidential election by a margin of 334,829 votes.

Democrats made notable gains in last year's municipal elections, however, and hoped farm discontent would help boost their total today.

State-by-state picture on other primaries:

Maryland: Neither Mr. Eisenhower nor Kefauver were opposed by other candidates in their respective primaries in Maryland. But voters were given a choice in each case between Mr. Eisenhower and an unopposed delegation and between Kefauver and an unopposed delegation. Kefauver won Maryland's 1952 primary. There was no contest then in the GOP presidential primary.

Former Sen. Millard E. Tydings captured the Maryland Democratic senatorial nomination in a nip-and-tuck fight with Baltimore contractor George Mahoney. Tydings will head off a possible southern rebellion this year.

There have been some third party rumblings in the deep South, primarily in South Carolina. A victory in Texas by Shivers, who had indicated he might bolt again this year, would doubtless have given other potential bolters a shot in the arm.

Ohio: Mr. Eisenhower picks up

Century of Methodism Pageant Held; Several Former Pastors Here for Event

"A Century of Methodism" presented last evening at Wesley Center was an evening of enjoyment from start to finish to a large audience who had met in observance of 100 years of existence of the Methodist church in Harrisburg.

As a tribute to the former pastors of the church, the audience rose to their feet as Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Hall, Rev. and Mrs. Earl Phillips, Rev. and Mrs. N. C. Henderson, Rev. Earl U. Yates, Rev. and Mrs. Maurice Winn, and the present minister, Rev. W. L. Cummins, marched down the center aisle to seats which had been reserved for them.

Led by the choir director and the chancel choir the audience sang "Auld Lang Syne." Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Bush of Edwardsville were also present, arriving later.

Rev. Cummins made welcoming remarks which put every one at ease and in a mood to enjoy the evening of entertainment and reminiscing. He introduced the officials of the church and Sunday school. He asked for the members of the church who had held the longest membership and Mrs. Carrie McCormick rose and said she had been a member ever since the time that the church was located on Vine street and at present she is 85 years of age.

Everyone who had a part in the past was excellent. Any one from the tiniest of the children to the older actors could have been considered a "veteran performer."

The musical numbers during the pageant were especially well presented. The quartette of the 1895 days (quoting Mrs. Pearl Willford Sherman who was a member of

It Isn't So, Defense Chief Tells Critics

Reveals 20-a-Month
Goal in Production
Of B52 Bombers

By JOHN W. FINNEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson today categorically denied reports that Russia is "far outstripping" the United States in air power.

"This is not so," Wilson told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee. Wilson also disclosed that

1. U. S. production of B52 intercontinental jet bombers will build up to a peak of 20 planes a month. He did not say when this peak output will be reached, but defense sources have indicated it will be early in 1958.

2. The armed forces plan to spend three billion dollars for research, development and production of guided missiles during the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Study Military Spending

Wilson's testimony came as the subcommittee began hearings on the administration's $35,900,000,000 military spending budget for the coming fiscal year. It was clearly intended to answer Democratic charges that the budget provides inadequate funds for air power, and that the United States is lagging behind Russia in long-range bomber production and in guided missile development.

Referring to "almost daily stories alleging that the U.S.S.R. is far outstripping the United States in terms of air power," Wilson said flatly: "This is not so."

He then revealed the 20-a-month production goal for the giant B52 jet bombers which cost eight million dollars apiece.

The current production rate is six a month. A year ago plans were geared to a peak rate of 12 a month, Wilson said, and were increased to 17. After President Eisenhower's recent request for an additional 248 million dollars for the Air Force for next year, the rate was increased to 20.

Points to Navy Planes

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, strategic air commander, testified last week that 78 B52s had been produced from 1952 through April 1955. He said that 31 had not yet been delivered to the Air Force because of a fault in the electrical system.

Wilson said that the Air Force has had "less difficulty with the B52 in its early phases than with any other airplane in recent years." Planes that "are temporarily held up" for modification will be accepted for use shortly and there will be "no loss of production," Wilson said.

He told the senators not to base their estimate of U. S. air strength on the Strategic Air Command's intercontinental bombers alone, but to consider also medium bombers, Air Force tactical planes and the "strategic capability" of planes aboard the Navy's 15 aircraft carriers.

He said the Air Force and Navy will operate 37,000 military aircraft of all types, combat and non-combat, during fiscal 1957. And, he said, the Army has an additional 4,000 liaison and helicopter types.

Praises Our B47s

The SAC's 11 heavy bomb wings will have 45 B52s each instead of a previously planned 30, Wilson said. This will "add 50 per cent to our long range heavy bomber striking power."

He said the "heart" of America's strategic striking power, however, is its B47 jet bombers which have "true intercontinental capabilities" with aerial refueling. These "represent the most powerful single element of air power in the world today."

The Air Force has about 1,500 B47s, authorities said.

Mrs. Nancy Dunn Dies at Eldorado

Mrs. Nancy Dunn, 85, widow of Will Dunn, died at 3:30 Monday afternoon in the Ferrell hospital in Eldorado where she had been a patient for the past 12 days.

Mrs. Dunn made her home with her older sister, Miss Rose E. Bramlet, at 1016 State street in Eldorado.

She was preceded in death by a daughter.

The body will remain at the Bean and Tanner funeral home in Eldorado.

Israeli Premier Charges No Sign Arabs Seek Peace

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said today the basic danger of war between Israel and the Arab states still exists because there is "no sign that any of the Arab states really want peace."

He said a direct meeting between Arab and Jewish representatives was the only way of bringing about a general improvement in Middle East relations and renewed his proposal for a meeting with Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser and other Arab leaders.

The white-haired premier said also that "without a balance of forces between the Arab states and Israel it is difficult to believe there will be no outbreak of war."

CIPS Hosts Group;
Films and Talks
Feature Gathering

Bankers, appliance dealers, building contractors, electrical contractors, realtors, lumber dealers, and newspaper and radio representatives from Harrisburg, Carrier Mills and Stonefort were present last night for a briefing on "Live Better Electrically," the electric industry's new promotion for 1956, which was presented by representatives of the Central Illinois Public Service Company in the rathskeller of the Harrisburg Elks lodge.

Bill Hopkins, manager of the local CIPS office, presided at the meeting, which was preceded by a delicious chicken dinner, and he introduced everyone present before presenting the speaker for the evening, E. O. Humphrey, commercial supervisor from the CIPS district office at Marion, who spoke briefly on the "Live Better Electrically" theme and explained some of its benefits to the different fields of business represented at the meeting.

Humphrey then showed the kinescope film of the "Live Better Electrically" closed-circuit TV show which was shown to similar gatherings in metropolitan areas coast-to-coast last month, starring John Daly and Gisele McKenzie. Reaction to the highly entertaining film was quite favorable, with several members of the group showing considerable interest in local promotion of the plan.

Other CIPS representatives introduced by Hopkins were Mrs. Verna Rice, home service representative; George Jensen, lighting representative; Jess Childers, residential representative; Carl Wall, industrial engineer; C. K. Gibbon, division engineer; and L. A. Luecke, division manager.

Galatia Pair Catches 44 Catfish in Evening

A big fish story comes from Ga-latia.

Friday evening J. W. Pulliam and Rev. "Buddy" Peyton went fishing in a private pond near Galatia and came home with an exceptional catch.

They had 44 catfish, some as large as a pound and a half. The catch averaged three-quarters of a pound.

It is reported that after getting home, one fisherman said to the other, "Well, let's start cleaning

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: FDR forced "influence" lawyers to resign from Democratic committee; Murray Chotiner is officially with Republican National committee; he received $5,085 expenses from GOP in last 18 months.

WASHINGTON.—The issue in the case of Murray Chotiner, campaign manager and personal attorney for Vice President Nixon, is quite simple. It can be best understood by making some comparisons.

Comparison No. 1.—In 1933, shortly after Franklin Roosevelt took office, several important Democrats who had helped elect him came to Washington and set up law offices. They started to practice law legitimately, but naturally their position of influence helped their law practice.

President Roosevelt then announced that if they were to practice law they would have to resign from the Democratic National committee. They had every right to practice law, he said, but not to use the Democratic National committee as a means of getting business.

I was in FDR's press conference when he made this statement. I recall that some Democratic stalwarts who had helped elect him didn't like this at all. O. Max Gardner, Democratic committee-man from North Carolina, said the President was quite right and resigned immediately. But Arthur Mullen of Nebraska called at the White House and squawked before he would resign. Others who resigned were Robert Jackson of New Hampshire and Bruce Kramer of Montana, all on the Democratic National committee.

Comparison No. 2.—Harry Truman continued the Roosevelt rule.
However, he got smeared when an attorney named Col. James Hunt, using an autographed photo given him by Truman, started using Truman's name. Truman actually had nothing to do with Hunt.

This was the first big five-percenter case, and the same senate committee which treated Chotiner so gently was ruthless in probing five-percenter Hunt. The same committee also rode roughshod over Gen. Harry Vaughan for making phone calls from the White House on behalf of John Maragon and friends, just as did Charley Willis and Max Rabb for Murray Chotiner. The same senate committee did not press Chotiner for the names of the clients for whom the phone calls were made.

This column was the first to expose Vaughan's and Maragon's influence operations; and I personally testified before the senate committee. This was the root reason why I was called some choice names by the White House.

Comparison No. 3.—Murray Chotiner is just as much a part of the Republican committee as Roosevelt's friends whom he fired were a part of the Democratic committee—perhaps more so.

I happen to have the record of Chotiner's expenses paid him by the Republican committee from June 1, 1954, to Jan. 23, 1956. It shows he received $5,085 in expenses, largely for telephone calls.

His heaviest expenses occurred during the 1954 congressional campaign, which the Eisenhower administration lost both in the House and Senate.

Because of the discouraging GOP political picture, Chotiner, who had pioneered across Nixon, Congressman Joe Holt, and Congressman Glen Lipscomb in California, was called in as a trouble-shooter. His first expenses were modest—$32.56 on June 1, '54; then $26.84 on June 21; then some heavy long-distance telephoning on Aug. 4 which cost $66.93 and $256.56; then more telephone calls on Sept. 13, costing the rather large sum of $564.06.

TELEPHONE TECHNIQUE

It should be remembered that Chotiner is credited with the anonymous telephone technique used so effectively against Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas and Congressman Jerry Voorhis when Nixon defeated them. This was the technique of getting Minute Women or Liberty Belles or paid operators to call up voters and announce:

"Did you know that Mrs. Douglas had strong communist sympathies? I thought it was my duty to tell you."

Chotiner is also credited with the idea of comparing Mrs. Douglas' voting record with that of the late Congressman Marcantonio of New York in order to make it appear that she was a "communist by association." These two techniques helped materially in electing Nixon to the Senate in 1950.

Chotiner's telephone expenses paid him by the GOP committee would indicate that, one way or the other, he still relied on the telephone in the 1954 campaign.

CHOTINER'S INFLUENCE

On Sept. 20, 1954, the GOP paid him another $435.16 for expenses;
on Oct. 5, another $378.40; on Oct.
13, another $289.59; and on Nov.
10, just after the election, the National committee paid him $871.40 to clean up most of his expenses.

Regular checks kept going to Chotiner, however, both in small dribbles and large amounts, the largest being $851.32 on May 13, 1955.

All these, totaling $5,085 for a year and a half, came from the GOP National committee in Washington. An additional check for $151.47 was paid him by the GOP Congressional committee on May 31, 1955.

In other words, Chotiner was right in the middle of high-up GOP politics, where influence counts just as it counted in the days when Roosevelt fired his close friends from the Democratic committee.

People caught with their hands in the public till naturally gravitate to lawyers with influence.
That was why FDR tried to remove influence from Democratic committeemen in 1933, and it was also why Chotiner picked up interesting clients in 1953. They knew he was a man of influence, and he proved it by being able to go in and out of the White House and have phone calls made for him.

It was all just as simple as that.
Note—The above does not include the extremely close relationship Chotiner enjoyed with Vice President Nixon as his personal attorney, or the public relations lectures he gave before the "Len Hall Campaign School"—about which, more later.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D. D.
Written for NEA Service

Abstract art is very difficult for some people to appreciate. But others find the work of conventional artists boring.

Many folk are fascinated by the furniture of the Empire period, while others like the Provincial design. Still others are intrigued with Victorian settings. Functional pieces are completely satisfying to many other people.

We have a great many likes and dislikes. We maintain many prejudices and preconceptions. Some folk foster inconsistencies and idiosyncrasies which set them apart as individuals in a world where all people are different human beings.

Even our fingerprints are so unlike that no two have ever been found to be duplicates. The task of creating millions of differences in people is beyond our comprehension. Since the Creator has chosen to make us all on a different pattern, it seems reasonable to believe that no mere man could alter the process and force uniformity on mankind.

America may not as yet have progressed very far on its journey toward Godly perfection, but let us pray that we never succumb to any attempt to fit ourselves into a pattern of enforced uniform belief or blueprinted program of living.

God's pattern of human differences is pretty satisfactory.

Hiller Gives Figures on Metropolitan Payments

Delmar H. Hiller, manager of the Harrisburg detached office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., reported that payments to policy holders and beneficiaries in Illinois last year amounted to $85-097,073. On the basis of company-wide averages, about twice as much was paid to living policyholders as to beneficiaries of death claim payments.

During the five-year period from 1951 through 1955 payments by the Metropolitan to policyholders and beneficiaries in Illinois totaled $371,826,626.

Carrier Mills High

Does Well in Music Meet at Charleston

Carrier Mills Community High School music students won four first places, seven second places and a third place award in the state music contest for Class C schools. The contest was held at Charleston Friday and Saturday. Class C is for schools with an enrollment of less than 225 students.

In addition to the individual awards the school won third among the 18 participating schools by accumulating a total of the original quartette) "better than our quartette ever was."

Another lovely scene was of the year of 1903 with eight high school young ladies and gentlemen singing an excerpt from a cantata given by members of the Junior League directed by Mrs. Sherman's mother, Mrs. Mollie Williams, around the early 1900's.

The last musical number was given by members of the beginners department of the present Sunday school who sang "Jesus Loves Me." They were also in costume as was all other members of the whole cast.

The host and hostess committee were in beautiful costumes, greeting the people as they entered.

ed the auditorium and presenting them with souvenir programs. The members of the chancel choir were also in costume.

Antique objects displayed in one of the side rooms off the auditorium were viewed before and after the pageant.

The whole presentation indicated a great amount of research and hard work on the parts of the members of the general committee, Mrs. Eli Lasersohn and Mr. and Mrs. John Schork. Interviewing Mrs. Lasersohn today, she said they were very pleased and gratified that the pageant was so well received. She also praised all other committees who had helped.

As a second event in the week's observance, a family night with a fellowship dinner will be on Wednesday at 6 p. m. in Wesley Center. The congregation may dress in costume if it so desires. Many will be dressed, especially the serving committee.

The public will be invited to the Friday evening service in the church at 7:30 o'clock. This is Youth Night where the younger people of the church will have the whole program. "Trustees of the Future" is their theme.

On Sunday, May 13, the Rev. J. W. Cummins, formerly of St. Petersburgh, Florida, but recently moved to Texas, will deliver the sermon at the morning hour. He is a former minister from the Southern Illinois conference.

Shedding Conifer

Although the bald cypress is a conifer, it is not an evergreen. Every autumn, it sheds its brown or yellow leaves and immature twigs.

The autogiro was invented by Juan de la Cierva, of Spain, and the first successful flight was made in 1923.

Church Killer Who Gave Self Up to Get Mental Examination

NEW YORK (AP)—Psychiatrists today examined Tony Tudorachi Sava to learn if the gaunt, raving Romanian refugee was capable of standing trial for firing four fatal shots into a church crowd late Saturday night.

Sava gave himself up Monday and admitted shooting at the church-goers after police had searched for him unsuccessfully for 33 hours.

"I did it for America," the 61-year-old unemployed porter confessed in rambling, broken English. But he said he only wanted to scare the congregation gathered for a midnight candlelight service at St. Dumitry Romanian Orthodox Church.

"I did not mean to kill anybody," he told Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan.

Sava was booked and arraigned on homicide charges and ordered committed to Bellevue Hospital for psychiatric examination within eight hours after he gave himself up.

Australia Still Must Import Much of Paper

CANBERRA (AP)—Australia will continue to depend on overseas supplies for at least 40 per cent of her paper needs, unless her own pulp and paper industry can expand by 1960.

The Ministry of National Development said the need for this expansion presents a challenge of national importance as pulp and paper represents one of the largest single items in Australia's import bill.

The government is exploring the possibility of using New Guinea timber for chemical pulping. But even with an increase in production, Australia probably will have to import more than 100,000 tons of newsprint per year.

XXIV

They crossed Aeolou Street and headed in the opposite direction. "We get a full moon here so seldom," Lisa said. "One must never leave Greece without seeing the Acropolis by moonlight."

Mike looked down in hushed awe on the sullen city below. The moonlight shed a silver light down the hill to the flickering lights of Athens and to the sea on the west.

He gazed down the south wall and the moonlight appeared eerie on the yellow marble of the Parthenon at his side.

Once Mike had asked himself what was the power that had brought him to Greece. He had asked in the midst of the turmoil and confusion of a retreating army. He knew, even in the chaos, that a reason was to be found somewhere. In large measure the question had been answered. But here, now, was another answer and another meaning. The very soul of his own country was born on this hill.

Mike turned and faced Lisa. As he stared into her sad black eyes he knew that Lisa was an integral part of the tragedy of Greece.

"There isn't any contact and there isn't any boat, is there, Lisa?" he asked softly.

She pressed her slender body to his, clutched his arms and buried her head on his chest as she trembled and wept.

"Hold me, Vassili—hold me—hold me!" she cried, her voice filled with anguish and desperation.

"What is it? Tell me!"

"Just hold me, tightly—please!"

Mike's arms were around her and she sobbed as they crushed against one another. Then she turned and walked away and slumped down on a marble boulder. Her eyes were as lifeless as the city below. "Come, Vassili," she cried softly. "I will take you back to Chalandri."

Two days passed. Lisa did not come. Mike was frantic.

He blamed the confinement, he blamed her beauty, he blamed the mystery and romance. All reason told him he was being foolish. Lisa was a woman he did not know, would never see again. Lisa might well be his enemy.

Rationalization failed. He had quite simply fallen in love with her.

He knew it was no novelty for men to fall in love with her. Perhaps she liked him and didn't wish to hurt his feelings.

On the third day around noon he heard her footsteps coming up the path. She had never come this time of day before.

The door opened and Lisa entered. She seemed more lovely, more beautiful than he remembered her. She looked directly at him and spoke in a cold monotone.

"Tonight you will go into Athens alone. At nine o'clock take a sidewalk table at the Cafe Andreas on Constitution Square. A man named Nico will meet you. He will be wearing a black suit and have on a Mason's ring. Nico will take you to Dr. Thackery."

She turned around and opened the door.

"Lisa, will I see you again?"

"No," she answered and walked from the pump house.

Eight o'clock. Mike put the pistol in his belt, took a last look around the pump house and stepped from the door.

The half-empty tram rolled toward Athens.

At the intersection of Leophoros Alexandrou and Leophoros Kifissias he transferred to another tram—this one crowded. Many German soldiers were about. He shrank against the window and looked out. The tram rolled past the iron gate of the American Embassy. Two Marines in dress blues stood guard before it. Mike choked up at the sight of the American flag. The train passed the Embassy.

The big clock over the square read ten minutes to nine. Mike crossed the street as he heard German heels click.

He looked into the cold eyes of a German officer. Mike reached to the ground and picked up the German's hat and bowed and apologized for bumping him in the crowd.

Cafe Andreas. The sidewalk tables were nearly filled. German and their girls mostly. The sound of music reached Mike's ears. At a nearby table three Americans chatted.

There were hardly any Greek men about. Mike felt conspicuous and half-naked as he edged into a table near the curb. A waiter looked at him unhappily. Greeks were not welcome, Mike thought. "May I sit down?"

***

A hog-fat man was already pushing his way into a chair opposite Mike. He wore a ridiculous-looking panama squarely on the top of his head; his oversized face looked like an English mastiff's. His eyes, too, were slits and seemed to stay open only with the greatest effort above two deep pouches. His suit was of a wrinkled white summer cloth.

"I am expecting someone," Mike said in Greek.

Automation Seen In Big Advance This Year

DETROIT (AP)—Automation should make giant steps forward this year, according to Ralph E. Cross, executive vice president of the Cross Co. of Detroit.

"A lot of phantasy on automation will disappear in 1956," he said. "And with many of the fears dissipated, that question—will automation take my job?—will be asked less often."

He added that the hearings conducted in 1955 by Congress pointed out "not the fear of unemployment, but the disturbing shortage of engineers to further expand automation."

Welding Society to Have Biggest Show

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The most elaborate show ever staged in the field of welding engineering will feature the American Welding Society's annual spring meeting here, May 7-11.

The program calls for 111 engineers to contribute 65 papers at 21 sessions. Five of the sessions will be co-sponsored by other organizations in the metals field. The welding committee of the Atomic Energy Commission will co-sponsor a meeting on nuclear reactor components while the metals engineering division of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will participate in sessions on welding of dissimilar materials, welding of stainless steel, tests of welds, and designing for higher working stresses in pressure vessels.

A TRIBUTE TO

Our Hospitals

... from

Williams Insurance Agency

NATIONAL HOSPITAL WEEK

May 6 to 12

Most people think of the hospital primarily as the best and safest place to be when one is seriously ill or injured. But those of us in the health insurance business also realize that our hospitals are symbols of security for the healthy citizens of the community as well.

We know, for instance, that the hospital usually is the community's health education center, where nurses and other workers learn their professions, where interns and technicians improve their skills, and where the family doctor can utilize better and more complete facilities than would otherwise be available to him. We have seen that hospital research has helped bring about some of the most important medical advances of recent decades. We know, too, that the hospital contributes a great deal to the business life of a community as a consumer of goods and services, and as a good employer.

Many of us in the Lincoln have enjoyed a first-hand acquaintance with the people who man our hospitals, and we are proud that through health insurance we have helped the hospitals to broaden their services to their communities.

And so, during National Hospital Week, May 6-12, we salute the men and women who provide their dedicated services to our hospitals.

Big Oliver, in Globetrotter Suit, Signs Pact as Carrier Mills Students Look On

With the entire Carrier Mills Community High school faculty and student body looking on, Oliver Rollins signed a Harlem Globetrotter contract Monday morning.

The signing, during a special assembly, was held in the CMCH gym, site of some of Rollins' greatest moments in high school basketball. It was fitting that it should also be the site of what possibly can be the beginning of a fine professional basketball career.

It all came as a surprise to the students. When Principal Warren Jennings made the announcement that they were to see Rollins sign the contract, the students gave out with a cheer.

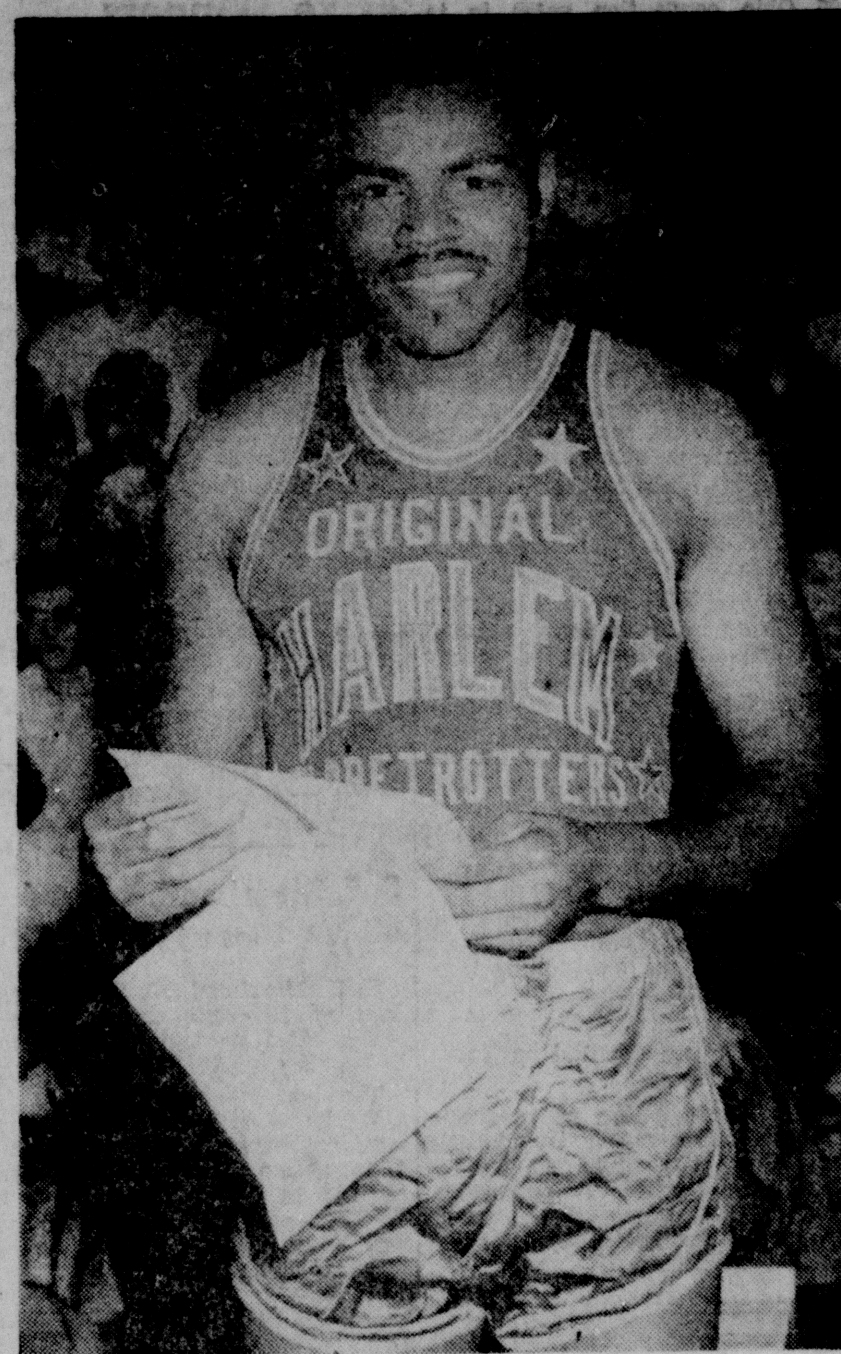

Then came the biggest surprise. Rollins came onto the floor attired in a Globetrotter uniform. That called for an even greater cheer.

In a short talk, Mr. Jennings revealed that Rollins would leave from New York City with the Trotters about May 16, would travel abroad for three and a half months, play ball in 21 different countries and see most of the principal cities of the world.

After the signing of three contract Rollins was asked to talk. He expressed his appreciation for the loyalty of the student body and all Carrier Mills fans during his four years in high school, and said "Of course I am proud of the chance to play with the Globetrotters and sure hope I can stay with them. I promise to do my best."

Rollins, according to information in the contract and in an accompanying letter, will return to the United States about the last of August and will be free until around the first of October, when all players will gather for practice. The Globetrotters will start their cross-country tours around Nov. 1 and will continue to play for five months or more. His contract extends until April 1, or the end of the season.

In a letter to The Daily Register, dated May 5, Abe Saperstein, owner of the Globe Trotters, says "... We looked at the young man at length and decided he is just the type of player that might fit into the Harlem Globetrotters organization."

Overstuffed Cotton Upsets Giardello; to Fight Again in June

NEW YORK (AP)—Charley (King) Cotton, an over-stuffed welterweight and 5-1 underdog who registered a stunning upset by outpointing ex-middleweight contender Joey Giardello, said today, "I'll take off a few pounds and beat him better next month."

They'll meet in another television 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena on June 4 or 11, according to promoter Teddy Brenner, who staged Monday night's bristling bout in which the slender Negro from Toledo, Ohio, snapped Giardello's victory string at nine straight and spoiled his comeback campaign.

For his first New York appearance 26-year old Cotton weighed 134 1/2 pounds to Giardello's 159 1/2; but welterweight Charley explained, "I fight much better at about 147 or 150 though I been weighin' heavier for middleweights 'cause I can't get any welterweights to fight me."

Colborn Quits Frankfort for Murphysboro

To Be Head Man In Both Football And Basketball

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (AP)—Robert Colborn, athletic director and head football coach of West Frankfort high school, has resigned and will take a similar position at Murphysboro.

Colborn has been at West Frankfort for three years. His resignation will be effective at the end of the school year.

Colborn will be athletic director and head coach of football and basketball at Murphysboro. He will replace football coach William Ferguson, who resigned to return to Murray State College in Kentucky, and Robert Smith, Murphysboro basketball coach, whose contract was not renewed.

Race Driver Charges Cig In Gas Tank

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Angry mechanics were looking today for someone they claimed tried to "sabotage" a car entered in the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race by clogging the fuel line with a cigarette.

Mechanics Frank Delroy and Frank Glibben insisted it was no accident that the unsmoked cigarette was found in the car piloted by Ed Elisian of Oakland, Calif. Elisian had trouble getting fuel to the engine Monday while on a practice run at the two and one-half mile oval in a car entered by Fred Sommer of Indianapolis. Glibben removed the fuel tank and found shreds of a cigarette. Earlier, he found parts of a cigarette in the bottom of the tank.

"I've been in auto racing a lot of years," the cigar-smoking Glibben growled, "and this is the first time this ever happened to me. The tank was clean when we brought the race car to the track." "All I can say is this is a helluva thing to use for an ashtray," Delroy ruled out the possibility of accident since no one working in the garage smokes cigarettes, but Duane Carter, racing director of the United States Auto Club, said he doubted it was sabotage. He said if there were "anything to it" he would have been notified, and suggested the charge might be a coverup for a faulty mechanical performance.

Shawneetown Nine Drops Pair on Trip To St. Louis Area

The Shawneetown High school baseball team, despite losing two games, had an enjoyable two-day trip to the St. Louis area this past weekend.

Friday afternoon Shawneetown dropped a 9-6 decision to Edwardsville and Saturday morning Freeburg romped past the Gallatin county crew, 12-2.

Between the two games played the Shawneetown players and Coach Darwin Vatter saw the Cardinals win from Brooklyn Friday night and most of the crew also saw the Card victory Saturday afternoon. One car load of players returned to Shawneetown immediately after the Freeburg Saturday morning game.

Shawneetown jumped on Edwardsville early and it looked like a rout, then Edwardsville pitcher found himself and held on for the victory.

Drone opened the game for Shawneetown by reaching base safely on a bunt. Then Gunzel homered for two runs. Underwood singled and Nolen homered for two more. In the second inning Shawneetown scored two more, and that completed their run making.

Edwardsville scored one in the first, two in the third, one in the fourth, three in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Each team made 10 hits. Shawneetown erred five times, Edwardsville four.

Shawneetown tired from playing a game Friday afternoon and staying up late for the Card-Brooklyn game, was easy prey for Freeburg Saturday morning.

Freeburg scored 12 runs, 6 hits and made three errors. Shawneetown had 2 runs, five hits and five errors.

Speiser and Schulte pitched for Freeburg with Lannert the catcher. For Shawneetown, Gunzel, Nolen, Thrallkill and Underwood pitched and Drone, Brazier and Gunzel caught.

HTHS Track Coach Ben Chamness today said he would enter seven Bull Dogs in the district track and field meet at Carbondale Friday.

Entering will be the following: Shot put and discus—Tony Beal. 440-yard dash—Jim Williams. 220-yard and 100-yard dashes—Bill Yates. 880-yard run—Melvin Hicks. Varsity relay—Donald Biggs, Fred McKenzie, Don McGowan and Yates.

Preliminaries and finals in the shot and discus will be held in the afternoon. Other finals will be in the evening.

Bargain, Not Bonus Boys, Big Help to Orioles; Cards Beat Giants, Braves Win

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles have poured out $600,000 in bonus money but it's a $10,000 waiver deal that's really paying off for them.

That's what the Orioles paid the Detroit Tigers for George Zverink last July 8 and today it looks like they acquired the majors' newest relief pitching star. He's retired the last batter in eight of the Orioles' nine victories this season and sports a brilliant 1.15 earned run average.

The 29-year-old right-hander from Holland, Mich., did it again Monday night when the Orioles scored their third straight triumph over the Tigers, 4-3. It was sweet revenge for Zverink who also retired the last batter in each game of the Orioles' Sunday doubleheader sweep of Detroit.

Just Two Pitches

Zverink replaced Bill Wight in the ninth inning Monday night and retired the side on two pitches when Harvey Kuenn hit into a double play. The Orioles then presented George with his second victory of the campaign when Hal Smith singled with the bases filled and one out in the bottom of the ninth.

In all, Zverink has appeared in 12 of the Orioles' 20 games and has allowed only 19 hits and three earned runs in 23 innings. Jim Wilson's 3-2 verdict over the Washington Senators on April 20 is the only Baltimore victory in which Zverink was not on hand for the last out.

Tom Brewer, 25-year-old right-hander, tossed a four-hitter and struck out nine batters to lead the Boston Red Sox to a 5-1 win over the Cleveland Indians in the only other American League game. Brewer, who has an 0.79 ERA for the season, retired the first 16 men he faced as he scored his third victory. Dick Gernert and Norm Zaucian hit homers to provide the big blows in the Red Sox' 14-hit attack.

Braves and Cards Win

In the National league, the Milwaukee Braves retained their hold on first place with a 3-1 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers and the St. Louis Cardinals downed the New York Giants, 6-3.

Bob Buhl limited the Dodgers to six hits and got out of his only two serious jams by inducing Jackie Robinson to hit into double plays. Del Crandall knocked in two runs with a single and a sacrifice fly and Hank Aaron homered for the third Milwaukee run.

The Cardinals scored five runs in the sixth inning on one clean single, two bunt singles, three walks, a wild pitch and a sacrifice fly to trip the Giants and tie Cincinnati for second place. The loss ruined a fine debut by Giant rookie first-baseman Bill White, who broke in with a homer in his first at bat and also had a double and single.

is requested of each person when they become a cooperator with the district. This money is used for office supplies, contest expenses, annual meeting costs, and various projects sponsored by the district. The district board members do not receive any pay for the time they give to the district.

The district has assisted farmers in much conservation work since its organization. A few of the accomplishments of the district co-operators during this time are: 2880 acres cropland farmed on the contour, 5340 acres permanent pasture seeded, 15 erosion control structures built, 2126 acres of cropland drained with the installation of 29.9 miles of ditches, and 109,199 lineal feet of tile lines, 95 stock water ponds have been dug, and 180 acres of grass water ways have been shaped and seeded.

From present indications 1956 will be one of the better years for the district. Thirty cooperators have prepared conservation farming plans with the assistance of Tom Morgan, farm planner, since the beginning of the year. Hayward Reeder, conservation aid, has made surveys and designed conservation practices for 23 different farmers during the same period.

The office of the district is located in Room 6, City Hall, Harrisburg. Everyone in the county is invited to visit the office and discuss their soil conservation work with the Soil Conservation staff.

Eyes on Indiana Primary Voting

56 Ohio convention votes in today's GOP primary. The delegates named today were nominally pledged to Sen. John W. Bricker as a favorite son because the President's second term announcement came after the entry deadline. But they will be Eisenhower delegates.

Governor is Favorite Son

In the Democratic primary, Gov. Frank Lausche was the favorite son choice of most of the delegate candidates, who will share 58 convention votes. Anti-Lausche candidates were seeking eight delegate seats in district contests.

Assuming Lausche's eventual withdrawal, Adlai E. Stevenson is expected to get most of the Ohio Democratic delegate votes.

West Virginia: Elects both GOP and Democratic national convention delegates, but neither party had any entrants in the presidential preference vote. Five Democrats and five Republicans were seeking party nominations for the Senate seat of the late Democratic Sen. Harley M. Kilgore.

Florida: Sen. George A. Smathers sought renomination against a single challenger in the Democratic primary. Incumbent Democratic Gov. Leroy Collins fought for renomination in a six-man race which included former Gov. Fuller Warren.

Florida's presidential primary will be held May 29.

New Mexico: Had no presidential preference voting. Democratic Gov. John F. Simms sought renomination against two opponents. Former Gov. Edwin Mechem was unopposed for the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

Ponder Fixed Speed Limits at Meeting; Westbrook Elected

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — A Region Three conference of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators today weighed the merits of fixed speed limits as opposed to "reasonable and proper" speed laws.

Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton, who has favored a fixed speed limit law to replace the state's present "reasonable and proper" limit, was scheduled to address the group's annual banquet tonight.

An expected discussion of Ohio's controversial axle-mile tax on out-of-state trucks did not materialize at the meeting Monday. Region

Rocket Flies Far Short Of Hoped-For Mark

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N.M. (AP) — The Navy today launched its Aerobee-Hi rocket, shooting for a new altitude record, but the rocket climbed only 116.5 miles into the atmosphere, far short of a record and hoped-for heights.

Three President W. B. Westbrook, chief automobile clerk in the Illinois secretary of state's office, who was elected to the National Executive Committee today, said specific problems like the Ohio tax would be taken up at a "workshop session" scheduled for June 11-12 in Chicago.

Several states, including Illinois, have opposed the Ohio tax on grounds it violates reciprocity agreements on vehicle licensing.
